“The Lord would have His institutions cleansed and elevated to a high and holy standard. Those connected with them He would beautify with the spirit of holiness and have them express the image of His dear Son. He would have them real helps and not hindrances” (The Southern Watchman, Oct. 9, 1901).

Creation Leads Evolutionist to Believe in God

On October 24, 2009, Adventist World Radio invites you to celebrate God as Creator. You may have been hearing more rumblings recently regarding the validity of the Creation week as recorded in the book of Genesis. This year is the 200th anniversary of the birth of Charles Darwin.

AWR believes that God created the world in six literal days, using the same creative power that Jesus Christ uses to transform people today and will use to re-create the earth in the future. And as our story demonstrates, God is still transforming people, using interesting means to do so.

Andrey had been an atheist since he was a child. That's what nearly everyone was in Communist Russia in those days. As he grew, he developed an interest in things of science. In school he was taught that humans evolved from lower forms of life. The earth and life on earth just “happened” to develop by a series of random events over many millions of years. Evolution was considered fact, as it continues to be in many parts of the world today.

One day, when Andrey was about 18 years old, he obtained a radio and began listening to it. By “chance,” he says, he heard a program that was talking about the creation of the world. It was the Voice of Hope program broadcast by Adventist World Radio. It caught his interest, and he continued to listen intently to the series of broadcasts on creation. He had never heard of the concept of the creation of this world by someone called God, especially in six literal days.

This idea prompted him to find a Bible, where he could read about it for himself. He began to evaluate the two ideas: evolution, which he believed, and creation, which he was hearing for the first time. The more he heard, the more he was impressed by this new idea. He said, “The sophistication of nature seems to require creation by a god who had a design.” He continued to listen and study for several years.

Andrey concluded, “The concept of creation is much more consistent and reasonable than the concept of evolution, and this,” he

Adventist Section in YouTube

A new issues-driven video series broadcast on YouTube is part of the Seventh-day Adventist Church's continued efforts to broaden the scope of its online outreach, church communicators said. Launched on October 7, 2009, Adventists About Life is designed to stimulate conversation and offer a distinctly Adventist take on such issues as freedom, faith versus science, the environment, and integrity.

“These videos have the potential to reach an audience that is typically ‘tuned out’ to the church's more traditional methods of ministry,” said Rajmund Dabrowski, world church communication director and executive producer of the series. Please share this site with your constituents. You can find it at www.youtube.com/adventistsaboutlife.—Garrett Caldwell, Sr., D.Min., public relations director, Seventh-day Adventist Church World Headquarters.

Around the World in 31 Days

Can we get around the world in 31 days? You can help. Just wear your pedometer every day, record your steps, then report to HR the number of steps you've walked. Send a note to Gail Hanson through Inter-mail or by e-mail to ghanson@rhp.org.

As of October 13, we have 26 participants reporting their steps for Around the World in 31 Days. These participants have taken 2,033,267 steps, which equals around 1,017 miles. That puts us in the Atlantic Ocean on our way to Portugal. (We're on a cruise ship, playing shuffleboard and minigolf!)

Bake Sale Benefits Cathy Recuenco

The Bindery is sponsoring a bake sale table in the breezeway to benefit the Manuel Recuenco family. Donations of baked goods will be gladly accepted through next Thursday, October 22. Approximately $160 has been collected as of Tuesday afternoon, October 13. There is a special based on this information, the average steps per person were 7,821 per day.

We just want to encourage you to get moving. If each employee participates by walking at least 6,695 steps each day of the month, we'll make our goal. For optimum health, a personal goal of 10,000 steps a day is good.

Pick up a tracking sheet from the table by Finance or in Human Resources. Turn in your step totals to Human Resources weekly, monthly, or whenever. There will be a prize at the end of the 31 days for the employee who has the most steps for the month.

said, "is what led me to a belief in God." Andrey joined a Bible study group and experienced the creative power of God changing his life. He soon began comparing churches, which ultimately led him to choose the Seventh-day Adventist Church. At 25 years of age he was baptized. He says, "All that I can say now is that my life is a blessed one." Yes, friends, the truth will set you free!

I urge you to stand firm in God's Word from Genesis to Revelation. One writer puts it this way: "The sophistry in regard to the world's being created in an indefinite period of time is one of Satan's falsehoods. God speaks to the human family in language they can comprehend. He does not leave the matter so indefinite that human beings can handle it according to their theories. When the Lord declares that He made the world in six days and rested on the seventh day, He means the day of twenty-four hours, which He has marked off by the rising and setting of the sun" (Christ Triumphant, p. 18.)

Please join us with Seventh-day Adventists around the world as we affirm our belief in the Creator God in worship services on October 24, 2009. If you or your church would like to participate, there are resource materials available at CreationSabbath.net.— Benjamin D. Schoun, president, Adventist World Radio.

New Product Highlights

Title: That First Christmas . . . Yosef's Story

Author: Trudy J. Morgan-Cole

He struggled to make sense of the words his betrothed had spoken. An angel . . . she was with child . . . Son of the Most High. . . He was acutely aware that the child wasn't his, but he couldn't accept that her story was anything more than just that—a fable concocted to conceal a guilty secret. No, he must break off the betrothal—quietly, though, so as to protect this girl he so desperately wanted to believe. Then the angel came to him.

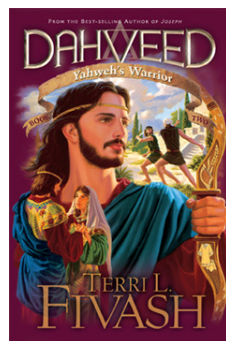

The decision still didn't come easily—he wrestled long with doubts and questions. I will marry her, he finally told himself. If my dream was only a dream, then yes, it is true she has betrayed and deceived me. But she needs a husband, and a father for her child. People will count the months from our marriage till the child's birth and think I took advantage of her. I will bear her shame for her; they will blame me.

But if the dream was true . . . Yosef could not even imagine what that might mean.

Title: Dahveed, Yahweh's Warrior

Author: Terri L. Fivash

He was Israel's beloved champion. Not only had he saved the kingdom, but the lives of Hassar Jonathan and King Shaul as well. Even so, Shaul took away his freedom . . . and then gave him the general's mantle. A bittersweet reward indeed for Yahweh's chosen one.

But he wasn't ready yet to lead the armies of Israel—or to accept his true status as Mashiah. He needed time—and the hassar's relentless training. Roeh Shamuel's steady guidance calmed his fears: "If you are to fulfill Yahweh's task, you must accept the place He has for you and conduct yourself in such a manner as to bring honor to the One who gave it to you."

And so, despite Abner's blatant contempt and Shaul's persistent censure, regardless of his own failure or triumph in battle, he chose unswerving loyalty to Yahweh. No one would ever fully understand the consequences of such devotion.

No one but Jonathan.
